

Scientific References

1) Fall Risk and Balance Confidence in Patients With Diabetic Peripheral Neuropathy: An Observational Study

<https://www.frontiersin.org/articles/10.3389/fendo.2020.573804/full>

2) Brain discovery may lead to new treatments for peripheral neuropathy

<https://www.medicalnewstoday.com/articles/300846>

3) Pain is in the brain

<https://www.mcgill.ca/neuro/channels/news/pain-brain-256034>

4) Paclitaxel-induced peripheral neuropathy is caused by epidermal ROS and mitochondrial damage through conserved MMP-13 activation

<https://pubmed.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/32132628/>

5) Locating the Site of Neuropathic Pain In Vivo Using MMP-12-Targeted Magnetic Nanoparticles

<https://www.hindawi.com/journals/prm/2019/9394715/>

6) Passiflora incarnata attenuation of neuropathic allodynia and vulvodinia apropos GABA-ergic and opioidergic antinociceptive and behavioural mechanisms

<https://bmccomplementmedtherapies.biomedcentral.com/articles/10.1186/s12906-016-1048-6>

7) Nopal Cactus: Benefits and Uses

<https://www.healthline.com/health/nopal#protects-nerve-cells>

8) Matrix Metalloproteinases in Neuropathic Pain and Migraine: Friends, Enemies, and Therapeutic Targets

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC3434407/>

9) α -Lipoic acid (α -LA) inhibits the transcriptional activity of interferon regulatory factor 1 (IRF-1) via SUMOylation

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pubmed/24975507#>

10) Oxidative stress-dependent MMP-13 activity underlies glucose neurotoxicity

<https://www.ncbi.nlm.nih.gov/pmc/articles/PMC5820202/>